

Good Conversation Starters

Tell me about yourself/the family you grew up in.

Who do you most look up to? Why?

If you could ask God one question, what would it be?

If you could visit one place, where would it be and why?

What living person would you most like to have dinner with?

What super power would you like to have?

If you became famous, would you enjoy the spotlight? Or miss having a normal life? Both?

What questions would you like to ask of a time traveler from 200 years in the future?

What's been the greatest joy of your life?

What are some hard things that have occurred in your life?

Deeper questions... As important as good questions are, it's just as important that you ask with sincerity and listen intently. Listening to someone is a great way of showing that you value them!

During your gathering, you can have a jar with these questions in it and then have folks take them out to talk over. Or you can have balloons with these questions in them, pop a balloon, and take out a question. Figure out a fun and natural way of randomly picking a question.
